Erin is a CPA with 20 years of experience providing assurance, accounting, and advisory services for family offices, private foundations, ultra-high-net-worth principals, financial services firms, charities, and closely held businesses. She started her career in audit for large corporations and over time has focused on the high-net-worth community's unique needs for quality accounting, internal controls, governance, and financial operations insight.

Erin has expertise with:

- Accounting and internal controls for ultra-high-net-worth individuals and families
- Interim and fractional finance, accounting, and reporting oversight (CFO services) for family offices, closely held businesses, and private foundations
- Business intelligence and data analytics, including benchmarking, financial statement forecasting, and compensation equity analysis
- Governance and strategic planning matters
- Risk consultation, fraud, and forensic examinations

Erin joined Seiler in 2011; she became a partner in 2016. Previously, she was a senior manager at Scott B. Price & Company, CPAs. She started her career as an accountant at a big four firm.
